

Until No Longer Effective

Christoffer Schunk

FWD: /rcrds/

Farters

Anna Luna
Zach Davis
Chase Harrison
Jon Easterling
Jacob Friedheim
Danny Wood
Alix Schwartz
Julian Beutel
James Pianka

Other Performers

Madeline Falcone (violin in Find)
Nathan Nonhof (vocals in You)

Friends captured in field recordings:

Danny Wood
Zoe Lillian
Taylor Brizendine
Zach Davis
Julian Beutel (trumpet)

Christoffer Schunk – composition, farting, voice, piano, accordion, guitar, bass guitar, electronics, recording, and mixing

Mastered by Alan Jones at Laminar Audio

FWD: /rcrds/
Copyright Christoffer Schunk, 2017
All rights reserved

fwdrcrds.com
christofferschunk.com

Tracks

Did You Find
A Way
That Moved
You
To
I Love
Them All

Anna Luna contributed 1 fart.

The impulse to compose a fart album formed while reading John Cage at a ranch, surrounded by many natural sounds including farts. I understood that every sound is beautiful in that sounds are themselves. Every fart is a fingerprint, expressing a sovereign sonic individuality in addition to its creator's, while still exhibiting a lack of possession by the creator. The act of farting is an act of non-possession. "Anything therefore is a delight (since we do not pos-sess it) and thus need not fear its loss." – Cage

The album can be considered a type of slow-change music based on the listener's attitude and perception of the sounds. What results from continued exposure to something like a fart and how does accompanying noise influence the perception of it? If it is immediately grotesque or funny, how long does it take for different opinions to form? What does this say about humor? Can fart acclimation relate to societal or political acclimation?

This album can also mean whatever you want. Farting is everywhere and for everyone.

(empty lines to pencil in meaning)

Zach Davis contributed 3 farts.

Chase Harrison contributed 4 farts.

Jon Easterling contributed 4 farts.

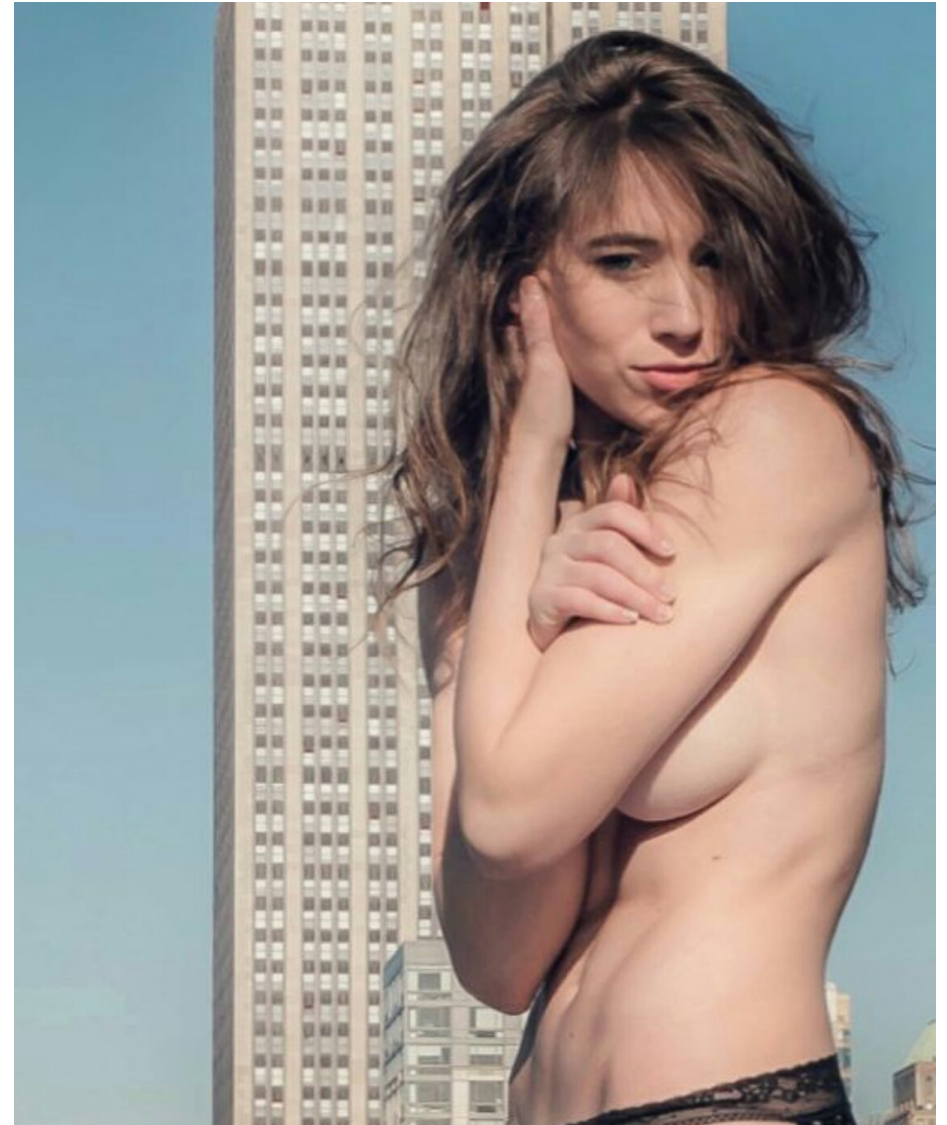

Jacob Friedheim contributed 6 farts.

Alix Schwartz contributed 7 farts.

Danny contributed 6 farts.

Julian Beutel contributed 9 farts.

James Pianka contributed 23 farts.

I farted close to 200 times.

FWD: /rcrds/